Computer repairs and more (See other side)

How to protect your data?

Most of us typically rely on one main computer that has all our pictures, documents and other personal data files that we cannot afford to lose. However, very few of us actually what to do or what measures to take in order to protect that data and maintain its integrity.

Tips for data protection

Every time you create or save an important document that is important, ask yourself:

Q: Is my data backed up to another storage device?

A: No. Then invest in a storage device for such backups.

Q: How do I know which storage device to invest in?

A: This depends on the amount of data and the type of data that needs to be backed up. This is where I can help to recommend the possible options that are available.

Did you know your hard drive is one of the top computer parts to fail that can cause permanent data loss?
